Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 1 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

- 1) ☒ Responsive to communication(s) filed on 16 March 2004.
- 2a) ☐ This action is FINAL. 2b) ☒ This action is non-final.
- 3) ☐ Since this application is in condition for allowance except for formal matters, prosecution as to the merits is closed in accordance with the practice under Ex parte Quayle, 1935 C.D. 11, 453 O.G. 213.

Disposition of Claims

- 4) ☒ Claim(s) 1-78 is/are pending in the application.

Detailed Action

Claims 1-78 are pending in this Office Action.

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

I. Claims 1-4, 33-36, 65 and 72, are drawn to a method, system, computer usable medium and means for establishing an electronic account over a network, classified in class 709, subclass 223.

II. Claims 5-8, 37-40, 66, and 73 are drawn to a method, system, computer usable medium and means for establishing electronic mail services over a network using an electronic account that generates an electronic address for a user, classified in class 709, subclass 207.

III. Claims 9-12, 41-44, 67 and 74, are drawn to a method, system, computer usable medium and means for processing electronic mail services over a network using an electronic account that receives requests from a service and a user, classified in class 709, subclass 206.

IV. Claims 13-17, 45-49, 68 and 75, are drawn to a method, system, computer usable medium and means for delivering mail, classified in class 709, subclass 206.

V. Claims 18-22, 50-54, 69 and 76, are drawn to a method, system, computer usable medium and means for delivering a message to a user with an electronic account with a lookup of a physical address, classified in class 709, subclass 238.

Art Unit: 2155

VI. Claims 23-27, 55-59, 70 and 77, are drawn to a method, system, computer usable medium and means for delivering a message to a user with an electronic account with a lookup of a electronic address, classified in class 709, subclass 238.

VII. Claims 28-32, 60-64, 71 and 78, are drawn to a method, system, computer usable medium and means for delivering a message to a user with an electronic account with a temporary address and time sensitive delivery, classified in class 709, subclass 207.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reason:

Invention Groups I - VII are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct from each other if they are show to be separately usable. In the instant case, invention in Group I has separate utility such establishing electronic mail services over a network using an electronic account that generates an electronic address for a user. See MPEP § 806.05(c). Invention in Group II has separate utility and is for establishing electronic mail services over a network using an electronic account that generates an electronic address for a user. Group III has separate utility that processes electronic mail services over a network using an electronic account that receives requests from a service and a user. Group IV has separate utility drawn to delivering mail. Group V has separate utility delivering a message to a user with an electronic account with auto completion of a physical address. Group VI has separate utility for delivering a message to a user with an electronic account with an auto completion of a electronic address. Group VII is an invention drawn to delivering a message to a user with an electronic account with a temporary address and time sensitive delivery.

Inventions in Group I-VII are unrelated and are found burdensome to the examiner forcing different searches. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions are (1) establishing electronic accounts and (2) establishing email services (3) processing email services (4) delivering mail (5) routing messages based on physical address or electronic address and account and (6) time sensitive delivery a message to a temporary address.

Because these inventions are burdensome as different inventions in the art requiring separate search as explained above with their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

For purposes of the initial requirement, a serious burden on the examiner may be prima facie shown if the examiner shows by appropriate explanation of separate classification, or separate status in the art, or a different field of search as defined in MPEP § 808.02.

That prima facie showing may be rebutted by appropriate showings or evidence by the applicant. Insofar as the criteria for restriction practice relating to Markush-type claims is concerned, the criteria is set forth in MPEP § 803.02. Insofar as the criteria for restriction or election practice relating to claims to genus-species, see MPEP §806.04(a)

- § 806.04(i) and § 808.01(a).

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and the search required for Group I is not required for Group II, and so on for Groups I – VII, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

Conclusion

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Benjamin R Bruckart whose telephone number is (703) 305-0324. The examiner can normally be reached on 8:00-5:30 PM with every other Friday off.

If attempts to reach the examiner by telephone are unsuccessful, the examiner's supervisor, Hosain Alam can be reached on (703) 308-6662. The fax phone numbers for
